Which aspects of the course were most helpful? Why?

Comments

Outside readings from the text provided more current views associated with the topics we were learning.

The video slideshow was helpful. The quizzes were very helpful since it was great to use those as study guides for the tests. The papers were thought provoking, really had you think about the material and get a good grasp of it. Good to learn processes relevant in today's politics, govt., etc.

It was nice to have an opportunity for extra credit. Also, Mr. Taylor was always available to answer questions right away.

The material was extremely educational and informative on the structure of the Courts.

I found this information to be very interesting

Deadlines being extended to midnight instead of 5 for me, everything was helpful because of im international student I don't know a lot about American law I really liked this class, and the Professor is an amazing teacher.

The textbook was easy to understand.

Which aspects of the course would you change? How and Why?

Comments

For the quizzes I would just add a little extra time. Maybe 15 mins for 10 questions. I was so focused on the time that I couldn't focus on the question.

The impromptu opportunity for extra credit was disappointing to miss out on.

1. On the video/slideshows, I would make it playable from the modules. I didn't know it had video, thought it was just a slideshow until the third quiz. My fault, but all other online courses I have had just had a play button so I didn't realize I was supposed to download it until later.

2. There is ALOT of material. Impossible to memorize all of it for a 4 week class. I wish there were certain points emphasized to concentrate on because the stress of trying to cram it all in made me not enjoy the class as much as I could have. I would rather learn something that I can remember later than try to cram in as much info for a test as I can just hoping I learned the right info for the quiz/test.

3. Grading – Wish there had been a larger grading scale because sometimes you make stupid mistakes, especially in the beginning when you are trying to get the feeling of the class and what's expected, and it makes it really hard to overcome when there are so little points to be earned.

The organization on Canvas is fairly rudimentary; for example, the only place you can view the readings for the week is by navigating to the Files tab and opening the syllabus there as they are not listed anywhere else, not even the Syllabus tab.

it was very fast-paced. I wish i did not take other courses with this course because it is very easy to manage but got hard with two other fast-paced courses.

Quizzes being 10 minutes that didn't help me learn anything because i would run out of time i would change the powerpoint slides like there is no a lot of information on it just the subtitles

Having only 10 minutes to complete 10 questions on the quizzes was challenging when the questions were long and required multiple readings. I think that even adding 2 minutes onto the quiz time would allow for more thought through answers and greater success overall.

The instructor presented himself as very condensing, unapproachable and rude. Additionally, his grading did not make sense to me. I do not understand how a quiz, mid-term, final and writing assignments can be worth the same. I was not impressed with this gentleman and I hope that he receives some professional counseling and development during his PH.D.

Which aspects of the instructor Travis Taylor were most helpful? Why?

Comments
The willingness to help students
Attentive to the questions and concerns of students.
Instructor was quick to answer any and all emails
Got back to emails in a very quick manner
I guess the little bit of feedback given after assignments
he helped me a lot like if I need a question I email him and he responds to me and he respected me, he just an amazing instructor i will take another class with him.
Extra credit was available.

Which aspects of the instructor Travis Taylor would you change? How and Why?

Comments
Nothing comes to mind.
This instructor needs significant changes in his education style and his general approach to students. To begin with, the professor weaponized his syllabus so as to avoid interacting with students by demanding an unprecedented level of rigid adherence. The instructor also engages in politically-skewed writing prompts for the course and penalizes alternative viewpoints. Furthermore, the point value of individual assignments are purposely kept low in order to discourage dissent by threatening a lower grade.
N/A
His grading was questionable on the writing assignments i feel like my worst work had better grades than the things i worked harder on
I really think there is nothing to change
Better communication between instructor and student.

DL1C: What elements of the course (including technology) contributed to your learning?

Comments

The ability to complete the course on my time.

I could work full time.

Made it possible for me to take the course because i do not have time during the fall or spring semesters

Not having to attend in person

because I have a full-time job I really can't go to school to take this course and because I went overseas to visit my family

I was able to work at my own pace, and learn the material in the ways that I find most effective without the distractions that come from being in a lecture hall.

DL2C: What elements of the course (including technology) did not contribute to your learning, if any?

Comments

Shorter semester required more hours per week.

very fast-paced

Not getting verbal feedback

no challenges

I had a computer malfunction while completing an online assignment, and it was difficult to resolve without being in person to discuss the matter.
